

Natasha Galavotti

President
Bimbo QSR

Natasha Galavotti, President Bimbo QSR recently led the world's largest baking company for leading global food service brands with sales of over $1B across five continents and 50 facilities. A C-Suite leader with two decades of experience in consumer-driven business across Manufacturing, Supply Chain, and Sales, Natasha leads with a passion for people achieving their full potential to grow the business. With a sterling reputation, she leads significant change on local and global scales. Natasha has directed billion and multi-million dollar P&Ls through strategic sales, innovation, operational efficiencies, and customer-centric initiatives.

Driving sustainable growth and profitability, Natasha has versatile experience ranging from turnarounds, startups, greenfield, and medium to large private and public companies. With collective successes and collaboration, she empowers people by leveraging unique talents and bridging strategy to execution through impactful leadership. Fostering trusted partnerships, Natasha aligns organizational capabilities with customer-focused strategies for market expansion.

Natasha is on the Board of Trustees for The Field Museum and Advisory Board Member for AWESOME and Tilia Innovation Collaboratory. Natasha also belongs to the Commercial Club of Chicago, the Economic Club of Chicago, Executives Club of Chicago, The Chicago Club and The Belizean Grove.

A former professional basketball player and Big 5 Hall of Fame inductee, Natasha positively correlates lessons in athletics to peak business performance.

Natasha has an MBA in International Business from the University of South Carolina and BA in Russian from the University of Pennsylvania.

Family is the foundation and Natasha is married to Luciano with four children.